Recent Alterations of the Land System

For some time past the English papers have been reading sermons to the British public and the inhabitants of the colonies upon the many fevors Leaped by the Government of Great Britain upon their distant settlements. Among the benefits claimed to have been bestowed, particular stress has been laid by some of these journalist upon the fact that the Crown has handed over its rights in land and minerals to the Colonial Governments. Whatever may have been the conduct of the Crown towards other provinces, and however favorably they may have been treated, the people of this country are not able to speak well of the mancountry are not able to speak well of the manner in which they have been dealt with by the Home Government, either directly or through its delegates in the Colony. Notwithstanding the fact that the inhabitants of this island must have the greatest interest in the proper disposal of the public lands, and that they are the best judges of the proper way to deal with them for the purpose of promoting the settlement of the country, and notwithstanding the fact, that they having east their lot in this remote corner of the world, that they, struggling to build up an empire, should have the control of every source of revenue that could possibly assist them in their arduous task, yet up to this time they have been kept waitpossibly assist them in their arduous task, yet up to this time they have been kept waiting the convenience either of a Government 10.000 miles away from them, or its representative here, it is hard to tell which; so that the people of this colony have not much to thank the Government of Great Britain for up to this time. If we look to these who represent or misrepresent it here, matters look no brighter. Who does not romember the expectation that was excited of the speedy settlement of the important question of handing over the Crown lands to the colony, when, in 1860, the Attorney-General, representing the Governor, advocated the granting of the civil list, declaring that the Crown lands would be handed over to the Colony upon its being voted by the Assembly, and upon its being voted by the Assembly, and that despatches lay in the Acting-Colonial Secretary's office which authorized it to be done?

We all know the result. The Civil List was obtained by a clever dodge, but the lands remained and remains to this day in statuque. Did Mr. Cary speak truly when he led the House of Asssembly to believe the matter would be settled to their satisfaction. Was he authorized by the Governor to make any statement of the kind? All candid men will say the blame rests on the shoulders of the Governor or his henchman, and none will be at a loss what rests on the shoulders of the Governor or his henchman, and none will be at a loss what name to apply to such conduct. In our own mind we have not the slightest doubt that if the Governor so decreed, the Colony could have the land without any delay whatever. Does he wish to render himself independent of the Colony? does he wish to apply the monies which are produced by the land sales, and which ought to be under the control of our representatives? Does he wish to apply them to the subsidizing of his willing servants—his body guard of officials? Where the Civil List gives them four, must he add another hundred pounds? If he does wish all this, he does well in preventing the Colony from getting possession of their wish all this, he does well in preventing the Colony from getting possession of their lands. He may make proclamation upon proclamation respecting their management. The principles by which he is bound in one may be discarded in another. It may be for better but far more likely for worse. But will the inhabitants of this Island be contented with any such irresponsible legis. contented with any such irresponsible legis-lation? What satisfaction would it be for them even if they had little cause of com-plaint, as long autocracy has its home in their midst?

Though there are some good features about the new Land Proclamation—though we think if properly carried out it will materially assist in opening up our extensive northern country, and developing its great agricultural resources, by affording facilities to men with small capital to settle down to tarming, yet we cannot fail to see not a few glaring deficiences; and more than that, what every one must condemn—a violation of the pre-emption principle, for so we must call it. It is well known that some time back the Governor upon an address from the House of Assembly, and in accordtime back the Governor upon an address from the House of Assembly, and in accordance with the express desire of the inhabitants of this colony, set out with the principle of selling no land without pre-emption settlement. One would naturally think that it would work well—that it would effectually close the door to land-jobbers, and consequently would be retained, but we and consequently would be retained, but we find that by the second clause of the new Proclamation that, "whenever public requirements are such as to render the sale of any ments are such as to render the sale of any tract of land expedient, whether a town-site, suburban lot or otherwise, the land will be put up and sold by public auction." * * "And in the event of any land not fetching the upset price, it shall be lawful for the Surveyor General to sell the same by private contract at such upset price;" and by the third clause, "all country land forfeited for non-payment of instalments, shall from time be put up for sale at public auction at an upset price of 4s. 2d, per acre." If this does not give an opportunity for speculators to come in to the exclusion of bona fide settlers and occupants, we do not know what it does. What is to prevent capitalists from buying up a dozen lots and holding over till they increase in value without making the slightest improvements? Not a word do we find in either of those clauses that would render it necessary for any purchaser to settle upon either of those clauses that would render it necessary for any purchaser to settle upon the land, or put up buildings, or do anything, in short, to aid in the settlement of the country. It is nothing more than a loophole for the perpetration of such jobs as that beautiful shuffle by which Sallas Island came under the ownership of the Attorney General.

came under the ownership of the Attorney General.

What reason is there for making the lots so much smaller than under the old proclamations? No man cught to be tied down to a hundred acres. What kind of a farm can he make out of that when he comes to take off his cattle-ranch, and other reserves. Why is there such a distinction made between married and unmarried men, to the detriment of the latter? Is it expected that men go farming with the intention of remaining single all their life? Who does not know that every man of them goes to make a home for a wife and family? that he is the pioneer to overcome the rugged obstacles, and make smooth the path for his future partner?

and why should he suffer for his consideration and his manliness? We think the old law was and why should he suffer for his consideration and his maniliness? We think the old law was far more favorable and just. But perhaps the Governor is working with the Emigration societies in the old country. Are we to suppose that he wishes the young men to take themselves wives from the fair maids who have recently arrived amongst us? Can it be that he says to the agents in England "You send the women, and I'll get them married." We confess the proclamation looks like it.

We are at a loss to perceive what good is to be gained by the enactment of the filteent clause of the new proclamation. Why should any pre-emptor be liable to have his land leased by the Government to any person with out his consent? It completely nullifies any good effect the pre-emption law ought to produce. If a man pre empts land, he ought to have the whole of it above and below. As long as he does what the law requires of him, he should have all the benefit to be derived from the land. If there are any minerals to be worked, let him work them or have the privilege of leasing them to whomsoever he may select. No compensation can render it satisfactory to a man to be liable to have his land let out by the Government for as many years as they please. This clause is likely to cause a great deal of trouble, and should be repealed. It is of the highest importance that our land laws should ofler no obstacle to those who are desirous of making our country their home. We cannot, however, expect perfection all at once; yet, if guided by true principles. home. We cannot, however, expect perfection all at once; yet, if guided by true principles, time will enable us to perceive where any deficiencies exist, and what remedies ought to camplied be applied.

There are other matters connected with the new proclamation which might call for some remarks from us, but want of space forbids our dwelling further on the subject at present.

THE KANE STREET MURDER.

CORONER'S INQUEST--SECOND DAY.

The jury summoned to inquire into the cause of the death of James Webster, who was shot on Kane street, in this city, on Monday evening last, re-assembled yesterday morning in the Boomerang Inn.

Owing to the gross neglegence or mismanagement of some official, the proceedings did not commence until half-past ten o'clock -neither the prisoner nor any of the witnesses being in attendance until half an hour after the hour fixed. The Coroner and most of the jurors were present at 10 o'clock pre-

The following evidence was taken:

EVIDENCE OF G. SUTRO. Gustavus Sutro, sworn—About three or four weeks ago, a man who gave the name of Canty came into my store, attracted, as he said, on seeing the name of Sutro; he said he knew my cousin in Washoe; entered into conversation, and told me that he had been to Cariboo, and that his (Canty's) wife he knew my cousin in Washoe; entered into conversation, and told me that he had been to Cariboo, and that his (Canty's) wife had deserted him in Washoe, taking with her his boy; he had followed her and a paramour to San Francisco, and subsequently to Cariboo, where he found his wife living with George Lawrence; that he recovered his boy by stratagem, and licked Lawrence to within an "inch of his life," and that if he had not been taken off by miners he would have killed him; he was fined $20 for the assault. Canty was about the same height and figure as the deceased; the latter may have been a little broader shouldered; he said that his wife was sister-in-law to Lawrence. that his wife was sister-in-law to Lawrence, and that if he ever got Lawrence in America he'd square accounts with him; Webster always wore a grey coat; Canty had a dark-colored coat on when I saw him; there was no resemblance in the dress worn by Canty and that worn by Webster; think that Canty wore whiskers but no moustache—am not positive; if I met Webster and Canty on a moderately dark night! toould distinguish between them at a distance of two yards, as their faces bore no resemblance to each other; can't say what would be the case on a pitch-dark night.

[It was here asked by the Coroner if the jury wished to call any witness to establish the character of the house? Mr. Ring, for the defence, objected, on account of the exposure which might result, and contended that no good end would be subserved by the examination. The foreman said the jury was extremely anxious to ascertain who was in the house on the night of the murder, and the Coroner replied that Mrs. Odell had already sworn that no one was in the house at the time but herself and Mrs. Lawrence.

EVIDENCE OF STEPHEN WHITLEY.

Stephen Whitley, a colored laundryman-Heard a knocking on a door near my house on Kane street, on the night of the death of Mr. Webster, and perhaps less than a minute after heard the report of a shooting-instrument. I also heard a second report in about as long a time as it would take a man to cock a pistol and get ready for another shot. When I heard the knocking I thought it was Oldell on one the knocking I thought it was Odell on one of his sprees; I heard no talking—only a shout to "open the door." This remark was made before the shooting; the whole time occupied by the knocking and shooting was not over three minutes. I heard afterwards that Web-ster was shot; I saw Webster early that same afternoon on the corner of Fort and Douglas streets; don't know anything against the character of the house; knew Mrs. Odell lived there, but thought she went there for protection from her husband's violence; never saw Webster at Lawrence's house; thought the voice was Mr. Odell's, because I had seen him

EVIDENCE OF EDWARD ALLEN. Edward Allen (colored) sworn.—Am a teamster, and on Monday evening last, near 9 o'clock, as close as I can tell, I went to Dun-9 o'clock, as close as I can tell, I went to Dunlop's house, on Kane street, opposite Lawrence's, and while standing at his door talking, heard a pistol fired, and immediately afterwards a second shot; the second shot followed the first in two or three seconds; then I heard a kind of a screech, and Dunlop says, "that's somebody shot your dog," and I ran across the street to the house where the man was murdered, and saw George Lawrence at the front door of his own house, raging and pitching; he shouted, "Let me in!" Some person inside says, "Who's there?" He says, "It's George Lawrence." In three or four minutes the door was opened by Mrs. Lawminutes the door was opened by Mrs. Law-rence and Mrs. Odell, and they grabbed hold of Lawrence one by each arm, and he asked them, "who was that at the window?" or "who was that getting in at the window?"
The women replied. "It's Odell—he's knocking about this house every night!" Lawrence said it was not Odell, but some one else—the name I don't remember. He said the man was the rum of himself and family: the name was not Webster; if the name was repeated to me I would know it.

The Coroner-Was the name Lawrence used, Canty?
Witness-Canty! that's the name I take Witness—Canty! that's the name, I take, my oath of it. The women cried, "George George!" and threw their arms around him, and he said, "I've shot him! I've shot him!" This all occurred inside of the house; I thought, as I ran across the street, that I saw somebody run from the kitchen door; so we got a candle -about 20 of us—and looked around, but seeing no one, we went away; still believe that something or somebody, ran from the back door as I ran across the street. I don't think on that night I could recognize Mr. Webster on that hight I could recognize Mr. Webster more than across this room—five yards. It was a rather dark hight. Webster's name was not mentioned by Lawrence.

[The jury here requested that M. Mayer be summoned as a witness, and the Coroner occordingly issued the necessary papers for his attendance.]

attendance.

EVIDENCE OF JOHN HATCH.

John Hatch, sworn—Between eight and nine o'clock, on Monday night last, heard two shots fired close together; soon after, while in Parker's (a previous witness) house heard groaning outside; went out and found a man lying there groaning and with Drummond and Booth carried him into the former's house; the wounded man said, "Lawnence needn't have done this as I meant rence needn't have done this as I meant

Michael Carey, (salesman at Webster & Co.'s) sworn—Knew nothing of the circumstances connected with the shooting, but was aware that Lawrence was intimately acquainted with Webster, and that he was in the habit of bringing messages from Mrs. Odell to Webster; at the time Mrs. Odell left her husband she stopped at Lawrence's; I am also aware that deceased paid Lawrence and his wife for carrying tales between him and Mrs. Odell; Webster visited Mrs. him and Mrs. Odell; Webster visited Mrs. Odell at Lawrence's house with Lawrence's knowledge before the latter went up country; the last time Lawrence called on Webster was in February last; I have left Mrs. Lawrence and Mrs. Odell with Mr. Mrs. Lawrence and Mrs. Odell with Mr. Webster in the store at night, after I have closed it, on more than one occasion; do not know Canty; I have not seen Webster at Lawrence's house latterly. Sometimes Webster would ask Lawrence, "how's our friend?" and both would smile. Mrs. Lawrence would never buy boots of me; she said that she could get them at half the price from Mr. Webster; I asked him once how that came, and he laughod and said there were certain little things between them.

The inquest was here adjourned until 2 o'clock, p. m.

o'clock, p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The inquest was resumed at 2:15 o'clock. EVIDENCE OF WM. OLDHAN.

Oldhan sworn .- Last Monday night, about $8\frac{1}{2}$ e'elock, or a quarter to 9, I was siting in my house, which adjoins Lawrence's, when I heard the report of a pistol, and ran out; the interval between the two reports was short; as soon as I opened the door, I saw a short; as soon as I opened the door, I saw a gentleman coming around the house; he knocked at L.'s door and ran back again to the end of a railing, and then back to the door again, and knocked; he shouted "open the door!" and Mrs. Lawrence and Mrs. Odell asked who was there? and he answered "my name's George Lawrence, and I've killed the man who's railed my preger and lampings.

was at home.

[Mr. Odell (standing behind witness) asked.

"Was Mayers ever there?"]

Odell was checked by the Coroner.

Odell—Well I think I've suffered enough, anyhow. Witness, continuing.--The deceased was in the habit of visiting Lawrence's regular every night like clock-work; he was there on the same morning as the murder—leaving at 9 o'clock; saw no man leave Lawrence's after o'clock; saw no man leave Lawrence's after the firing; the night was very dark; I might see a man a yard off.

[The prisoner here burst into tears, and Odell, the husband of the woman on whom it is said Webster was calling at the time of the fatal occurrence, approached him and whispered in his ear. The prisoner sobbed vio lently, and at the request of the foreman. Odell was ordered to refrain from further conversation.]

Witness continuing-Webster used to come to Lawrence's in a very peculiar manner; he used to peep around before entering for fear of Odell, who was always after his wife; deceased got behind my water-tub one night because Odell was after him.

EVIDENCE OF GEORGE BALLS.

George Balls, in whose employ Lawrence formerly was, testified that Canty called on him about two months ago and told him that he was bound to have the best of Lawrence for taking his wife and child; he exhibited a re-volver and knife; after Canty returned from Cariboo he came back with his boy and said he had destroyed Lawrence's property and beaten him. Canty was about the size of Webster.

[Odell was here removed from the room, by order of the Coroner, for interrupting the pro cecdings.

EVIDENCE OF OFFICER MC CALLUM.

Officer James McCallum-Was present at the prisoner's house on the night of the 15th the prisoner's nouse on the night of the 15th inst., when the prisoner was arrested; searched the house for fire arms and found a Colt's revolver secreted in a cooking stove; [pistol produced—a five shooter with two cylinders discharged, and identified by the witness as the one found in the stovo.] paid no attention to anything that was said; the two cylinders seemed to have been recently discharged.

EVIDENCE OF SERGEANT BLAKE.

Sergeant Blake, (of the Police) sworn—Testified that he arrested the prisoner at his house and told him he did so because he had shot Mr. Webster. Saw Mrs. Odell and Mrs. Lawrence in the latter's house, Mrs. Odell said it was her "old man? who had shot Webster, and remarked "why don't you arrest him?" Both Mr. and Mrs. L. said it was Odell who had fired. On my way to the Barracks with the prisoner after way to the Barracks with the prisoner, after a caution, he told me that he took the man shot to be Canty; that Canty had destroyed shot to be Canty; that Canty had destroyed his property up-country, and whipped him and threatened to do so again; that he (L.) had returned home that evening, and saw a man at the back door, and called out to him, "you s—of a b—, Canty, is that you come again?" The man made no auswer, and he drew his pisted and shot at him twice; prisoner also told me that he fired law; he expressed his deep regent at what low; he expressed his deep regret at what had occurred and cried.

M. Mayer called as a witness, said that he was not in Lawrence's house at the time of the shooting, and knew nothing about it except by hearsay. He was therefore excused from giving testimony.

EVIDENCE OF ANTHONY ELLIOTT.

Anthony Elliott saw Canty about two weeks ago twice around Lawrence's house, and asked him what he was doing there, and he replied that he was waiting to have satisfaction or revenge out of Lawrence, and satisfaction or revenge out of Lawrence, and showed me a pistol and knife on a belt under his coat; I asked him what Lawrence had been doing to him, and he gave me no satisfaction; knew Canty eight years; heard that Canty was divorced from his wife in California; Canty did not look at all like Webster—he was not so tall or so stout, and was of dark complexion.

The avidence of the Elliptic closed the case.

The evidence of Mr. Elliott closed the case and it was given to the jury at 4 o'clock, who returned, after a deliberation of an hour, with a vertict that the deceased, James Webster, came to his death from the effects of pistol-shot wounds fired from the hands of George Lawrence, and defining the crime as one of "Manslaughter."

THE ROBBERY ON VIEW STREET.-About 10 o'clock on Sunday night, special officer Taylor and Sergt. Blake found the large trunk stolen from Bendixen's house on View street, between 6 and 7 o'clock the same evening, lying in an open lot adjoining the French Consul's house on View street, above Douglas. The lid had been forced open and two diamond rings taken; but the ladies wearing apparel and a large bracelet were wearing appared and a large bracelet were left behind. Yesterday morning Mr. Rice, of Harris & Co., found the jewel-box lying in a vacant lot near Douglas and Pandora streets. It had also been forced open but, only about half of the jewelry abstracted. Gold pencils, studs, bracelets, and breastpins, to the value of nearly $1000, were found therein and handed to the police by Mr. Rice. The value of the property still miss. TOWN COUNCIL

MONDAY EVENING, Sept. 22, 1862. Council met at 7:15 o'clock. Present: His Worship the Mayor and a full Board, The Nuisance Ordinance came up on a reconsideration.

The first riding and driving clause was amended by Mr. Lewis, seconded by Mr. Searby, to read, at a rate not exceeding Bundled by Mr. Lowis, secondary of E. Searby, to read, at a rate not exceeding \bullet ght miles per hour, under a penalty of £1 for each and every offence.

Mr. Coptand suggested an addition to the ordinance, establishing the side of the road which horsemen and vehicles were to take. but declined to make a motion on account of the opposition with which all his motions had been met at the previous meeting.

Mr. Reid suggested that all horses should trot within the city limits, and that none be allowed to make a allowed to canter.

Mr. Lewis also moved that horsemen vehicles take the left side in riding and driving. Mr. Reid, seconded by Mr. Copland, moved that no horse or vehicle ride through the town faster than a trot; that a canter be amenable to the laws, and that passing each other that they pass each other on the right, according to English law. The amendment was lost, and Mr. Lowis amendment carried. Mr. Copland moved that in the impounding clause, horses and cattle be stricken out, and that pigs and goats, not redeemed within seven days, be sold and the fine and costs placed in the city treasury.

Councillor Reid moved that the surplus proceeds be handed to the owner. Lost,

Mr. Copland introduced a clause inter-Mr. Copland introduced a clause interdicting the carrying of fire-arms or other dangerous weapons within the city limits under a penalty of £1. Carried.

Mr. Lewis amended, fixing the penalty at £5. [Appause.] Carried.

Councillor Searby moved that not more than 1-3d of a street be occupied in the crection of a new building, and that a fence be erected around the works, and lights be or susbtance from premises without damage to neighbors, and that the same be caused to neighbors, and that the same be caused to run into the street.

Messrs. Lewis and Searby opposed the amendment, because no system of sewerage had ever been established, and because it would entail great expense on a householder in many instances to carry the water to the front of his premises, when it was off its level.

Mr. Copland said that a $2 pipe would carry the water from the roof to the street easily.

The vote was a tie, and His Worship having the casting vote, voted against the amendment, which was accordingly lost.

The Nuisance Ordinances were then read and adopted as a whole.

Mr. Stronach moved that the ordinances just passed be published in the Daily Colonist and Press. Mr. Searby seconded, and the motion was carried.

motion was carried.

On motion of Mr. Searby, an advertisement calling for tenders for city printing, was carried.

Mr. Copland begged to inquire whether the Mayor and Council have given authority to any party to break the ground of Churchway and Humboldt streets, and pointed to the Act of Incorporation which gave the Council control of the streets. He said that the Council should pass a law to prevent the breaking up of the highways as was at pre-sent being done by the convicts. The Mayor said that he had given no such authority, and if any person was guilty of the same, the clerk would be ordered to notify the parties so offending to cease, be-cause it would alter the grade of the city. We had had too much of such high-handed operations here, and now it was the duty of Council to stop the mischiel.

Mr. Lewis said that the chain-gang was only clearing the rubbish from a path to allow children to go to school.

Mr. Copland replied in a spirited manner, and said the Hudson Bay Company or the Government had done always just as they pleased with the streets heretofore.

The motion was set aside for consideration The motion was set aside for consideration at the next meeting.

The Footpath Ordinances came up and were read a second time.

Mr. Copland gave it as his (legal) opinion that the ordinances were inoperative, because the Council had no power to sue delinquents. His Worship believed the Council had full

Mr. Hicks agreed with Councillor Copland and proposed that the Council should apply for extended powers.

Mr. Reid spoke of the hardships which would result to parties compelled to raise their old sidewalks, and thought the Councillors were making fools of themselves, to use the werds of a member of Assembly. The law was about as much value as an old sheet of the Colonist a hundred weeks old. [Great laugh-

The ordinances passed.

The Committee of Ways and Means reported progress, and further time was granted. The petition from property-holders and residents on Government street to have that thoroughfare graded and macadamized from Johnson to Pembroke streets, was laid on the table until an ordinance to establish the city grades has been passed.

On the petition from the Gas Company to have the draw of the Rock Bay bridge repaired:
Mr. Hicks offered a motion that the Clerk be instructed to notify the Gas Company that the Council is not prepared at present to grant the petition. Carried.

The Council next proceeded to ballot for a Town Clerk, it being resolved that after the second ballot any candidate not receiving more than one vote be stricken off.

The first ballot stood—Pidwell, 2; Leigh,2;

Austin, 1; Pearkes, 1. Second ballot - Pidwell, 2; Austin, 2; Leigh, 1; Pearkes, 1

Messrs. Leigh and Pearkes were here stricken off as candidates

Third ballot—Pidwell, 2; Austin 4.

His Worship declared Mr. Austin duly elected Town Clerk, and that gentleman thanked the Council for the honor conferred.

The Council then adjourned until Monday evening next, at 7 o'clock.

CHAS. OPPENHEIMER, WALTER MOBERLY. Lytton, Aug. 13th, 1862.

FO THE EDITOR OF THE BRITISH COLOSIST—SIR: In reference to the extraordinary notice which ap-pears in your paper of this morning, signed by "J W. Tripp," and dated from Sticken the Sth August-inst., I beg to state on behalf of Mr. James T. Bybee, my co-partner, and myself, that the partnership for merly existing between us and the said J. W. Tripp was legally dissolved, so far as respects the said J. W. Tripp, and on the following grounds, viz: 1st. That the said J. W. Tripp received certain moneys for lime, sold on account of the partnership, without accounting to his co-partners for the same 2nd. That he neglected his duties in the Eureka works in San Juan Isle, and in the early part of June last left the same altogether, without apprisin me or my co-partner of his intention so to do, at the same time he took with him a quantity of tools and provisions, our property. and an arrival and art of the obtained goods at Victoria in the name of the firm without paying for them, and took the same with him for his own benefit; and that he has not since returned; my partner and self having been compelled to pay for such goods as improperly obtained by the said J. W. Tripp.

On these grounds counsel advised that a dissolution might legally be effected, and which has been don accordingly. Any further interference by or on the part of the said J. W. Tripp, by himself or Agent will cause them to be dealt with according to law.
